1.What data the device collects (e.g., location, usage statistics, sensor measurements).

——Interacting with cloud platforms through the internet

2.Format and size of the data (e.g., .csv or .json, number of MB).

——The data format is .json

3.Whether the device collects data continuously or in real time.

——Continuously collect data

4.Where the data is stored (locally or on an external server) and how long it is retained.

——Data on the device is stored on an external server, with the device retaining approximately seven days' worth of data.

How the user can access, request, share, or delete their data, including conditions and service quality

——You need to go through the Tuya icloud to see the running status of the device