

Teething Ring made of Silicone and Natural Wood

The different textures on the teething toy help relieve your baby's gums during their first tooth eruptions.

Made of food-grade silicone and natural beech wood.

These materials do not contain any potentially allergenic substances, are 100% BPA-free, phthalate-free, and plastic-free, and are safe for your baby to put in their mouth.

Note: It is recommended to wash the natural wood ring by hand with soap and water and not to put it in the dishwasher.
