

EU TYPE EXAMINATION CERTIFICATE

Intertek

CE

Notified body reference

Notified body name
and address, including the CE mark position in the marking in accordance with the relevant standards
and the number of
certification cases

Technical description of the product
including the CE marking

Information on the certification body
and the date of the initial issue of the certificate

CE mark details including the number of
certification cases
and the date of the
initial issue of the certificate

Product name and description of marking, including the CE mark marking position, and the CE mark marking details, including the marking details of the CE mark

Product name

Product description

Product number

Product reference

Product details

Product name

Product description

Product number

Product reference

Product details

Product name

Product description

Product number

Product reference

Product details

Product name

Product description

Product number

Product reference

Product details

Product name

Product description

Product number

Product reference

Product details

Product name

Product description

Product number

Product reference

Product details

Product name

Product description

Product number

Product reference

For further information, please contact the Intertek website at www.intertek.com.
 The CE mark is a certification mark used to indicate that a product conforms to the requirements of the European Union.
 The CE mark is a certification mark used to indicate that a product conforms to the requirements of the European Union.
 The CE mark is a certification mark used to indicate that a product conforms to the requirements of the European Union.
 The CE mark is a certification mark used to indicate that a product conforms to the requirements of the European Union.