SUMMIT OF LEADERS, OXFORD

Oxford, UK, 20 December 2016

Press release issued by the Socrates Nomination Committee

Union, Oxford, ICL on the 20th of December 2016. For years the Summits of Leaders hosted in Oxford Town Hall have been a source of inspiration, learning and transformation for those who are looking to build better businesses and a better society. Traditionally Europe Business Assembly gathered together prominent academia, think tank, business icons, international leaders and CEOs, brilliant minds from 48 countries to discuss the issues and trends that will determine the future of education and business from.

The agenda included the plenary session with key-note speeches and presentations that highlighted current challenges in education management, an overview of The Academic Union, Oxford activities as well as presentation of training programmes of Business Training Center, Oxford. The presentations were divided into special sessions (academic and business) devoted to: 'Innovative Solutions to Global Economic Challenges on a Regional Level' and 'Innovative Practices in Learning Process'.

The guest star of the Summit was Minister of Higher Education and Training, Republic of South Africa Dr. Bonginkosi Nzimande. He spoke up on state educational initiatives and viable innovative approaches to education with government support in the Republic of South Africa.

Within the framework of The Socrates Award Ceremony best regional businesses, academia, leading scientific and medical institutions with solid professional reputation shared success stories and received the deserved European recognition from international business and professional elite.

At the Socrates Award Ceremony The Academic Union Council and the Oxford Summit of Leaders Organizing Committee (Europe Business Assembly, Oxford, UK) was proud to honour Mr. Sanjeev Bhatt, CEO of Radico with the title of 'Honorary Professor of the Academic Union, Oxford' for his activities in the scientific researches and successful implementation of modern management technologies as well as the efficient marketing strategy at Radico.

Here in EBA we wish Mr. Sanjeev Bhatt new achievements in professional field and hope that Radico will significantly benefit from the deserved EBA award and European recognition and will be inspired by it for further professional successful development.