

A close-up photograph of a wooden surface, likely a table or desk, showing a prominent horizontal mark or stain. The wood has a warm, medium-brown tone with visible grain patterns. A dark, horizontal mark, possibly from a pen or marker, runs across the middle of the frame. A small, black, rectangular object is placed on the left side of the mark, and the text "CE MB057" is printed in white on its top surface. The lighting is bright, creating a slight reflection on the wood's surface.
