

E-mark smart chip

Smart enough to have a sense of security, built-in smart chip control charging process, current overload to a certain extent automatically cut off the current, to protect the safety of the phone.

