

experience, and an equal knowledge and aesthetics. Halo Design was started by Michael Waltherdorff, who at the age of 18 founded the company based on a very democratic idea: creating lighting based on modern technology and functional design solutions that everyone can relate to. Michael Waltherdorff is still as entrepreneurial and fascinated by light today as he was back then, with a passion for lamps where the consumer has a say in relation to the lighting and a passion for materials and alternative methods for expressing the quality of the material.

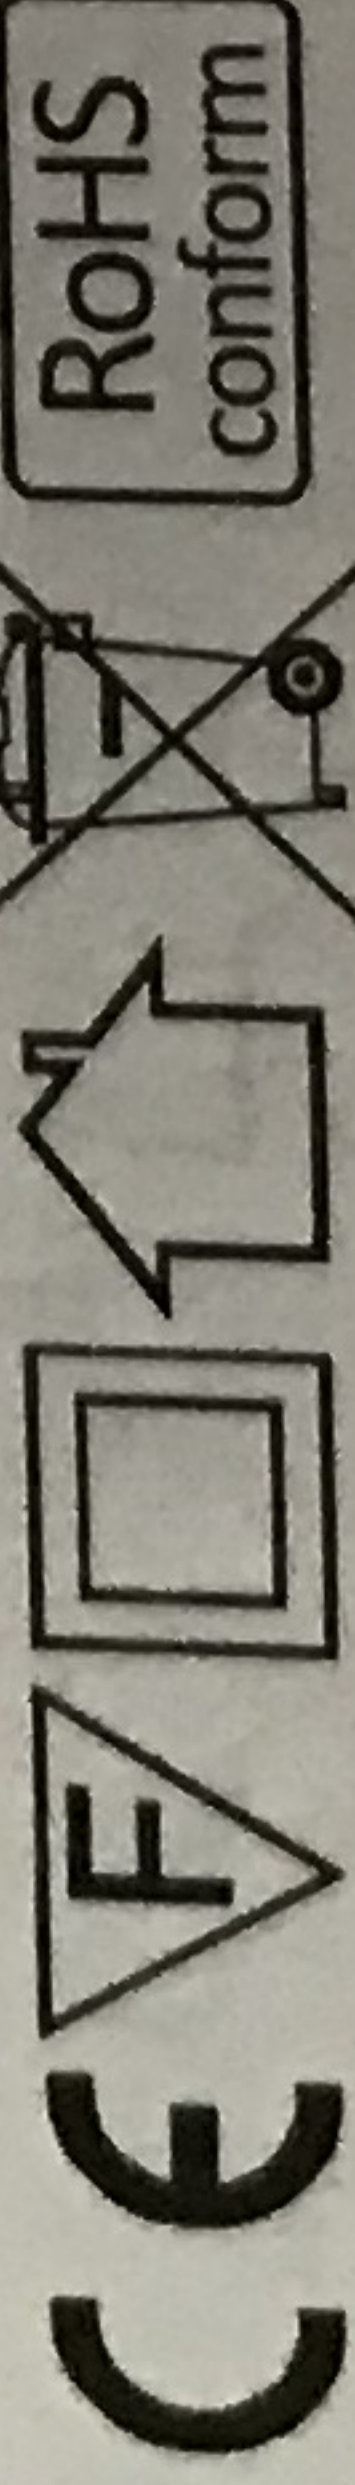

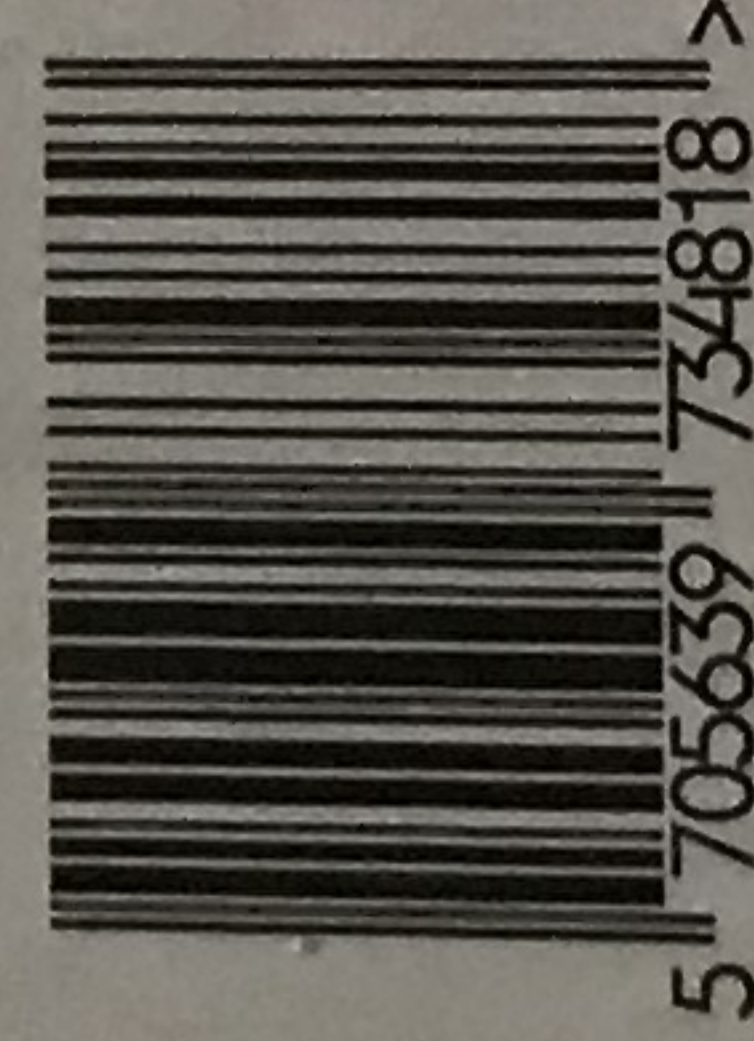

Let's turn the light on...
